1.4.73
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant Theodore Cottingham, February 12, 2006 10:38pm
www.unc.bz

1. Who can see the beginning of something new, of something real; indignant not; but yea digging into the dignity that yea Father has for His household, for all householders; for all in His surrendered body of believers not; His surrendered body of surrenderers who surrendered are to Him in the new things that He is doing that are taking place; that yea He is, that they are, that this new season, new age, new dispensation is?

2. Who can see/touch/believe real and true, to see the real and true; be touched by and touching it/Me, yea are them; and knowing the oneness now that comes, that is/always has been, not; but yea is, and was, is as was, now is again.

3. And who can see the handwriting on the wall for petitioners not; but yea surrenderers who are not surrendered, but yea give lip service to and talk about and think about; but do not spend with Me, the time/their time; their heart not having been given over to Me; and what do I do with My heart when their heart is not Mine? I wait and I bow before them and I surrender to their wants; and I give them what they do.

4. I love you. I give you Me. And all that I have said is true and everlasting; and the new age presents itself before Me. I am ageless. I am age not; but the new, but the new that I do now is aged; and yea am I not you/Me?

5. Behold the conquering that comes forth; passage given/granted; shown walking/motion real. I give you Me. Amen.

6. Come in moments/minutes; and see My beloved real and true; expanding My Kingdom with My message of London coming forth real and true; and real and true is; valid of My heart alone. Yea I love you.

Me